

Fourth Grade Summer Reading

Read the book “No Talking” by Andrew Clements. Jot down any new or interesting vocabulary words on the post-it notes. You can also make notes about what you think is important in the story. Answer the questions on this paper as you read. You will need to return the book and this paper at the beginning of fourth grade, and be prepared to discuss the book.

In this book, the fifth graders are having a contest to see who can talk less. What are the rules for the contest? Are they allowed to talk at all? What about other sounds?

Read to page 30. Circle/highlight who you think will win the contest?

Girls

Boys

Who are the main characters? Write some adjectives to describe what each is like.

Main girl....

Main boy....

--	--

List the names of the fifth grade teachers and any other adults that work in the school.

Name	What is their job/what do they teach?

List four or five of the vocabulary words you have found. Write sentences using at least two of the words.

In the book, who learned something after holding this contest? What did he/she learn? Answer with a short paragraph (three or four sentences). You may write about more than 1 person.

Did you like this book? Why or why not? Answer with a short paragraph (three or four sentences).
